General Information.

ENTRAL WESLEYAN COLLEGE was founded by the German Methodists of the West, and is under the patronage of the St. Louis German and the Western German Conferences. It is denominational, but not sectarian. Hundreds of young ladies and gentlemen of the various denominations have availed themselves of the privileges here so liberally offered. It is Christian from principle, because it believes that Christianity is the highest form of the divine revelation to man, and destined to become the absolute religion. It is Christian from policy, because without exhibiting and teaching the principles of the Christian religion, the best types of a broad culture, pure morality, and active philanthropy cannot be realized.

The prosperity of our school during these 25 years has been of permanent and healthy growth. The number of our patrons and friends is steadily increasing and God is opening hearts and purses to meet the growing wants and requirements. During the past two years a strenuous effort has been made to enlarge the endowment fund of the school, and the Lord has abundantly blessed the labors of Prof. Kessler, who has been engaged in this work, so that we can look forward to a widening field of usefulness for the future. Rest on our laurels we dare not and will not. Our successful past should but serve as a new impetus for us and all our friends to increased zeal and greater faithfulness in the important work of thorough Christian education for our German American youth.

AIM.

Central Wesleyan College makes a liberal Christian education equally attainable to all. It aims to meet the wants of all classes of students, and to help them in their efforts to prepare themselves for their mission in life. It, however, recognizes the fact, that a large majority of those seeking a liberal culture, come from the laborer's home, from the farm and the shop; and, therefore, it has reduced expenses as low as possible, so that the poorest students need not be deprived of the benefits of a thorough education. From the first, ladies have been admitted on the same terms as gentlemen to all the departments and privileges of the College.

DISTINCTIVE FEATURE.

A characteristic feature of the College is the attention which is paid to German. Its facilities for giving the student not only a theoretical, but a practical mastery of the language, are unequalled by any college in the West. The majority of the students are of German parentage. German is used as a medium of instruction in about one-fourth of the classes. One of the four literary societies of the College conducts its exercises entirely in the German language. All of the Professors understand German, and four of them completed their education in Germany.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Warrenton, Mo., sixty miles north-west of St. Louis, on the Wabash and Western Railway, which makes connections at all prominent and intermediate points, North, South, East and West.

The location is high and healthy, in a pleasant part of the State. Warrenton is on the dividing ridge, separating the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, and is the highest point on the railroad between St. Louis and St. Joseph.

The College has a large and commodious three-story brick building which supplies rooms for chapel, recitation, museum and library purposes. The five buildings belonging to the College are situated in a beautiful grove of maples and forest trees, and present a very attractive and homelike appearance.

REMARKS ON THE COURSES.

CLASSICAL COURSE.

Instead of Mathematics, students in the senior year may elect some other study with the advice of the faculty. Students completing this course will receive the degree of A. B.

SCIENTIFIC COURSE.

This embraces the same studies as the classical course, with the exception of Latin and Greek, for which German and French are substituted.

Students who prefer, may, by permission, substitute Latin for French. Lessons in Drawing are required. On completing this course the degree of B. S. is granted.

Students are earnestly advised to choose one of these regular courses, since they furnish the most thorough discipline and offer the best preparation for later professional study. If, however, students do not desire to complete a course, they may, by permission of the faculty, enter any class for which they are prepared.

NORMAL COURSE.

An object of the school is to give young ladies and gentlemen an opportunity to prepare themselves to become efficient teachers in English, German, or English-German Schools. For this purpose a Normal Course of two years has been organized, offering special advantages to those intending to teach. This course, in addition to the common branches, includes the practically more useful of the higher branches, and is thus suited to many, who, for want of means, or other reasons, cannot complete the Classical or Scientific Course.

We would call attention to the fact, that in many schools teachers are desired who can give instruction in both English and German. To all who wish to prepare themselves for such positions, special facilities are offered in Central Wesleyan College.

Students in this course are required to take Drawing and Vocal Music at least one year, and at least single entry Book-keeping.

Any student completing the Normal Course will receive a diploma as a Normal Graduate.

THEOLOGICAL COURSE.

Students desiring to prepare for the ministry will find a complete Theological Course laid down. Since the studies are taken in German, it is not deemed necessary to give the course in the English catalogue.

MERCANTILE DEPARTMENT.

In this department special facilities are offered for gaining a thorough knowledge of Book-keeping by single and double entry. Besides, students receive instruction in business correspondence, commercial law, penmanship, and everything pertaining to mercantile life. They also have an opportunity of joining classes in the other courses, if they desire. The full course can be completed in two terms, if the student has the requisite preparatory knowledge. Having finished the course and passed satisfactory examinations, the student is entitled to a diploma attesting his proficiency.—Crittenden's Book-keeping is used.

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

Instruction is given on the Piano, Cabinet Organ, Pedal Organ, Violin, etc., also in Singing and Harmony. Those, however, who have the necessary intellectual culture and who desire to make music a professional study, are earnestly advised to pursue a full course.

This consists of the following:

1. A knowledge of the masters, old and new, and the ability to play them, (especially Haydu, Clementi, Mozart, Beethoven, Weber, Mendelssohn).

2. A course in solo-singing; text-book — Concone's Etudes.

3. A course in harmony ; text-book — Johnson's Harmony.

4. A knowledge of the history of music.

To receive a diploma, students must make a fair standing in the three subjects of Instrumental Music, Vocal Music, and Harmony.

For Prices see Page 23.

RHETORICAL EXERCISES

are required at stated times throughout the year.

SOCIETIES.

The Beethoven and the Mendelssohn Associations unite the musical talent in the school for harmonious action and supply the music for literary entertainments and concerts.

Four Societies enable students to engage in various kinds of literary exercises, and to gain practically a familiarity with parliamentary law.

The Goethenian Society consists of young men, who, in all their society exercises use only the English language.

The Germania-Verein, consisting also of young men, permits only German to be used within its Hall.

The Clionian Society consists only of young ladies, who use either German or English in their exercises.

The Garfield Society offers special advantages to younger students.

All the societies are in a flourishing condition, and are considered a very important addition to the ordinary school work.

The Reading Room Association keeps a number of the best Journals, Magazines and Papers, in both English and German. Students thus have an opportunity of becoming familiar with current events and the literature of the day.

LECTURES.

During the year a course of lectures on various subjects will be given, as announced, by members of the faculty and by distinguished gentlemen from abroad.

For the past year the course was as follows :

Prof. J. M. Rinkel : Two lectures on Germany.

Rev. H. Nuelsen : German Methodism in the Fatherland.

Rev. E. C. Magaret : One lecture on True Greatness ; one on Florence.

Miss Ermine Owen : Elocutionary Entertainment under the auspices of Clionia.

Prof. S. S. Hamill : Two Elocutionary Entertainments.

Dr. B. St. James Fry : Lecture on Egypt.

Rev. Dr. Masden : Alumni Orator.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission must be of good moral character. Pupils may be admitted to classes in the Preparatory Course at any time during the year ; but applicants for admission to the classes of the advanced courses should be present, if at all possible, at the beginning of the year.

No pupil will be admitted to recitations who has not been examined and graded.

Upon entering, students must matriculate and comply with the financial requirements.

Entering and continuing in the school is regarded as a pledge on the part of the pupil, to comply with all its rules and regulations.

EXAMINATIONS.

1. The preliminary examination is both oral and written. Students will be admitted to any class upon passing a satisfactory examination in the preceding studies of the course.

2. At the close of each term there are written examinations, and at the close of the third term there is, in addition, a public oral examination in some branches. Reports of the average standing and deportment of each pupil are made out at the end of each term.

Four years are contemplated as the time necessary to complete the Classical or Scientific Course of study. All candidates must possess a good moral character, and must have passed satisfactory examinations in the studies of their respective courses.

All candidates who obtain the required standard, will receive the degree of A. B. or B. S. Diplomas are also granted to students completing the Theological, Musical, Normal, Business, or German Course.

Candidates for the degree of A. M. or M. S., must apply to the President before the close of the school year, and deposit the required fee.

LIBRARY.

The Library contains about 3800 volumes of reference and miscellaneous books, which are proving of great use to students in their work. During the present year about 100 volumes were added by purchase and by donations. A card catalogue and an index to the magazines in our collection greatly increases the efficiency of the Library. A term-fee of 50 cents is required from all students for Library purposes, whether they use the Library or not. Donations of books, pamphlets, magazines, etc., received with thanks. Library donations for the present year amount to 110 volumes. (See page 28.)

APPARATUS.

The school is supplied with the necessary apparatus to illustrate and explain the subject of Chemistry and Physics by means of experiments. Students in Astronomy have the use of a six foot five inch diameter, refracting telescope. An excellent transit also enables students in surveying to do practical work.

MUSEUM.

The Museum contains a large number of specimens, charts, etc., illustrating mineralogy, geology and zoology, and applied sciences; skeletons and charts are provided for teaching physiology, and a Herbarium for students in Botany.

It is hoped that the friends of the College will take an interest in this department, and assist us in making our collections as complete and valuable as possible.

TUITION.

Tuition charges will not be made for less than a term, unless a student enters after the close of the third week of that term.

No allowance made for any absence less than half a month at one time, whether caused by sickness or other good reason; one-half of the regular prices will be charged.

When students, on account of sickness, are compelled to leave the school, tuition fees and the amount of board which have been paid in advance, will be refunded. Full tuition, however, will be charged those who, for any other reason, leave before the end of the term or school year. At least one month's tuition will be charged in all cases.

EXPENSES.

All bills for board, tuition, etc., payable in advance for at least one half term.

BOARDING DEPARTMENT.

The charges for board, light and fuel are only $2.50 per week, making the total expense as low as in Institutions where the students board themselves in clubs. In the catalogues of such institutions generally the cost of board only is given, and nothing is said about the expenses for room-rent, furniture, fuel, lights, beds and bedding, and washing the same. All these with but few exceptions (see below) are furnished at the College for $2.50 per week. Students also avoid all the care, trouble and inconveniences which pertain to a boarding club, and can devote their whole time to study. Securing supplies, cooks, kitchen furniture, fuel, etc., give them no care or anxiety whatever.

The College is in possession of large commodious buildings containing private rooms for pupils, and hence a large number of students can have their rooms and get their meals at the institution, and so be entirely under the supervision of the Faculty and Officers of the school.

As long as there is room in the College Boarding Department, pupils from a distance are expected to board there. Only those who pay their own expenses, or those whose parents desire it, may, according to a resolution of the Trustees, board and lodge in private families. But the School cannot be held to strict responsibility for their conduct outside of school hours. Leaving the College Boarding department before the end of the term, without the consent of the President, is not allowed, and may cause suspension from classes.

ROOMS.

Each room is furnished with the necessary furniture with the exception of mirrors, blankets, pillows and feather beds. They must be furnished by the students themselves. These must also furnish their own toilet soap and lamp chimneys. Blankets will be furnished at the rate of 25 cents each per term.

Students will be responsible for all damages to rooms or furniture, and it is expected, that when such occur, they will report the same, and make good all damages. Students will be assigned rooms at the beginning of each term, and changes are not to be made without permission.

If any one wishes to occupy a room alone, he must pay extra charges for the same. The Boarding Department and rooms for students are in close proximity to the College, requiring little or no exposure in winter, and surrounded by pleasant grounds and beautiful shade trees, making it delightful in warm weather.

YOUNG LADIES' HOME.

To accommodate the large and constantly increasing numbers of young ladies, there is a commodious "Ladies' Home." It is beautifully situated, has nicely furnished study and sleeping rooms, and offers to young ladies an agreeable and pleasant home. Young ladies rooming here, are under the special care of the matron.

Board, lodging, light and fuel cost $3.00 per week.

REDUCTION OF EXPENSES.

A number of students who board at the College Boarding Department will have an opportunity to work, and thereby reduce their expenses considerably.

TEXT BOOKS.

Text books and stationery can be bought at the College at reduced prices for cash.

DEPOSIT OF MONEY.

Money can be deposited with the President for safe keeping. Parents will do well to note this fact. For many reasons it is not good for young persons to have control of large sums of money. The consequences are generally evil.

BOTH SEXES ADMITTED.

Central Wesleyan College admits students of both sexes to all branches taught in the school. Experience has shown that co-education of the sexes is for the mutual advantage of both. In this way some of the advantages of a well regulated family life may be secured, while at school. But students of both sexes are not allowed to board in the same private family, without the permission of the President. The association of the two sexes outside of the school room is strictly forbidden. Students are expected to note this fact and govern themselves accordingly.

DISCIPLINE.

The discipline of the school is mild and in accordance with moral and Christian principles. Unnecessary strictness and severity will be avoided. In cases where pupils refuse to be governed by mild means, and admonitions, warnings and reprimands are disregarded, suspension, dismissal or expulsion will be resorted to, in order to preserve the good name of the school, and to preserve others from being injured by their bad example. No student who uses intoxicating drinks, swears, or is guilty of any other gross misconduct, is allowed to remain in the College.

We can assure parents and children, pastors and societies, that we earnestly seek the good of those intrusted to our care, and, while it may happen, that some few who have been here, honor neither themselves nor us, the results of our methods in general have been good and blessed from On High.

Any further information in regard to the School or its arrangements will be gladly given. The correspondence of all interested parties is therefore earnestly solicited.
